Dear Mr. Lilien:

This letter responds to your letter and questionnaire of March 1, 2013 seeking updated information on Hurricane Sandy relief efforts.

As you may have learned from our response to your questionnaire of December 2012, IRC is an international humanitarian organization, headquartered in New York. We provide emergency relief and assistance to people affected by conflict and other crises in 42 countries around the world, as well as resettlement assistance to refugees in the U.S. Our Hurricane Sandy relief efforts were limited to (a) deploying some funds for hurricane preparedness to our existing Haiti program and (b) small cash payments to refugees in New York and New Jersey who missed work as a result of the storm. We raised only the small amount of restricted funds reported earlier. We have no new information to report.

We trust that this information satisfies your requirements. Please do not hesitate to contact me directly at Carrie.Simon@rescue.org or 212-551-2729, should you require additional details.

Sincerely,

Carrie A. Simon
General Counsel
